

Health Law / Healthcare Transactions

Our Firm has an extensive health law and healthcare transactions practice serving physicians and physician groups in many segments of the industry. Our clients include:

- specialty hospitals;
- acute care hospitals;
- assisted living facilities;
- industry associations;
- medical staffs;
- physician groups;
- independent practice associations;
- health maintenance organizations and other managed care organizations;
- home health and hospice companies;
- medical equipment and service companies;
- free standing clinics;
- outpatient surgery centers;
- medical laboratories;
- skilled nursing facilities; and
- alternative health care delivery systems.

Physicians and other health care providers practicing in professional entities require a variety of our services, including:

- regulatory advice at the state and federal level;
- contract negotiation and antitrust counseling;
- handling of corporate and partnership matters;
- tax advice;
- development of personal business plans; and
- estate planning.

Health Law / Healthcare Transactions

Our health law attorneys are experts in many issues that arise in this increasingly complex and competitive industry, especially with the support of working with other departments of the Firm.

Attorneys

- J. Edward Barth
- David H. Dobson
- D. Joe Rockett